Technical Services and quality control:

The technology involved in manufacturing of knit fabrics and garments are well known to the qualified technical persons who are available in the country. Experienced and skilled technical personnel recruited for smooth operation and maintenance of machinery. As a result, we ensure our buyers; our products are superior quality and competitive price.

Quality Control:

Quality of the products now-a-day becomes a paramount precondition to be renowned into the export market. Taking that into account, the organization implies a series of quality checking at the production steps and prior to pack. Furthermore, a pre-shipment quality inspection to the products is also carried out to comply finally with the buyers' specifications. The quality Control team of the company conducts such inspection from knit to pack independently where every matter is critically reviewed.

Transportation:

The factory procured 2 Covered van for carrying raw material and finished goods.

Safety Provision:

The project has adequate safety provision to fight against fire hazards and first aid. The project will have firefighting system.

Product Quality:

In the market supply of quality product is considered to be prime determinant for successful marketing of the product. It is generally believed that the buyers do not compromise with quality for the sake of price. As such, quality of the product must be ensured to compete in the market. We have to remain always conscious about the quality, design etc. of the fabrics. To produce quality products, we are required to use proper imported and local raw materials, right type of machinery and to employ experienced and skilled personnel. The quality control section of the factory is properly equipped with the required and necessary quality control equipment so that at every stage of production quality of the product should be ensured.

Product Pricing/Service Charge:

Next to quality, product pricing/Service Charge plays an important role in the successful marketing of the product. Our product is competitive price-wise along with the proper maintenance of quality.
